Dear Parents and Carers,

It is with sadness and joy that we have said farewell to Year 12 graduands this week. They are a group of young women who have left a very positive mark on our community – as leaders, as learners and as people of compassion and forgiveness. I have been extremely proud of the way they have conducted themselves over the past few weeks and moved by the manner in which they have said goodbye to the College community.

They led a fun-filled, light hearted assembly on Tuesday and then joined their teachers for a luncheon provided by Year 11 students. The Awards Ceremony and Eucharist on Wednesday afternoon had a great sense of occasion as students were recognised for their academic achievements and service to the community. All students then received the Mercy College Graduation Medal at the conclusion of our Eucharistic celebration. They will be dancing the night away this evening at their Graduation Ball.

In the Awards Ceremony, Shaneika (College Captain 2015) spoke eloquently about her years at Mercy, telling us of how difficult it was to leave such a nourishing environment in which she valued all the friendships she has made.

This week has been important for students, staff and parents, who have worked in partnership over the past six years. Graduation celebrates this partnership – the highs, the lows, the joys and the challenges. Most importantly, Graduation celebrates the relationships we nurture over a significant period of time.

As a community we say farewell and offer best wishes and happiness for their future, no matter where that future leads them.

CINEMA ADVERTISING

Next time you go to the movies in Chatswood don’t be late and miss the advertising segment at the beginning as you will see the Mercy College advertisement. We are on the big screen in Cinema 2 and 6 at Hoyts Chatswood Mandarin and Cinema 2 and 6 Hoyts Chatswood Westfield.

HOLIDAYS

The College will be closed from Thursday 17 September as the whole staff will be attending a Staff Spirituality Day based on Pope Francis’ Evangelii Gaudium: The Joy of the Gospel. Classes will commence on Tuesday 6 October after the Labour Day public holiday.

I wish all students a safe and happy holiday.

Best wishes

Summer Uniform

Term Four is fast approaching when students will be in their summer uniform. Now is the time to check the uniform as many of the girls have become taller since Term One. The summer uniform is available from Lowes in Chatswood. Please ensure your daughter’s uniform is in good repair and the length of the summer uniform is to be on the middle of the knee. White ankle socks are to be worn with the uniform.

Thank you for your ongoing support

Mercy Girls Inspire

My name is Angela Moore and I am in Year 7. On Wednesday 7th October I will be donating my long hair to Variety Australia, a charity organisation who make wigs for children that suffer from hair loss due to cancer treatments and other conditions.

This is something I can do to make a difference to a child’s life.

Something you can do to make a difference is to donate the cost of your morning cuppa at https://alopecia.everydayhere.com/au/angie-becky-rose

Please help me to help them.

Thank you very much for your support, and a special thanks to Sloans of Lane Cove hair salon, who are supporting me with this initiative and making the chop!

Rose Moore (Rebecca’s mum) and Rebecca Moore (Angela’s sister) are also having their long locks chopped and donated to this great charity.

Thank you for any donation you are able to make. You will receive a receipt for any donation over $2 as it is tax deductible.

Year 7 Amphitheatre Acts

On Tuesday 25th August, Year 7 held their yearly Amphitheatre Acts. We had many eager Year 7 students to perform in front of the school. There were many talented girls, who performed solos, duets and there was even a dance! We had a lot of cheering from the audience, which was great because this encouraged people to join in and help the performers to gain more confidence. Congratulations to all the girls in Year 7 that contributed to the performance. I would like to thank these girls for making the Year 7 Amphitheatre acts possible – Amy A, Annabel L, Imogen R, Sarah H, Caela D M, Anika C, Ariann K, Gabby K, Milan S, Achsa S, Chelsea W, Claire H and Monica P.

Values for Life

Year 7 students participated in a variety of activities on Monday 7 September that were aimed at building resilience, developing values and finding their place in society. Tim, the presenter, engaged students with fun games, interesting video clips, insightful information and challenging group activities to ensure the main messages were entrenched in the students’ minds. Furthermore, many analogies were provided which forced students to think about their self-identity, respect for others and the need for challenging experiences in their life. Additionally, about 60 parents attended an evening seminar on resilience which provided valuable research and strategies that parents could adopt to assist in preparing teenage girls with the necessary skills to be able to bounce back when life became difficult. One interesting piece of research likened teenage resilience to an experiment whereby scientists grew trees in a biosphere dome so that they could perform a range of tests and collect data. As the trees in this dome grew, scientists were very happy with their progress and development. However, one day, all the trees began to fall over. They tested the oxygen levels, soil nutrients and atmospheric pressure but all results came back normal. Puzzled, the scientists explored further and came to realize that a lack of wind in the dome caused a deficiency of stress wood. Stress wood helps a tree position itself for optimal sun absorption and it also helps trees grow more solidly. Without stress wood, a tree can grow quickly, but it cannot support itself fully. It cannot withstand normal wear and tear, and survive. In other words, the trees needed some stress in order to thrive in the long run. According to research, this is the same with adolescents. Teens need to face challenges, accept consequences for their actions and learn to problem solve when they are faced with a difficult situation as this makes them stronger – more resilient – in the future. The College would like to thank ‘Values for Life’ for presenting both the parent and student sessions.

HPE Day

Hula Hoop and basketball shooting competitions were held at lunch whilst a healthy lunch box competition was judged at recess on Wednesday 9 September. Amy A managed to successfully hula hoop for 15 minutes continuously which amazed onlookers. Additionally, Gabrielle H was crowned the Queen of basketball shooting with the most number of successful basketball goals. Giulia M And Paula P earned the healthy lunch box prize as their salad and steamed vegetable dumplings were well prepared and also nutritious. Congratulations to all girls who participated and ensured that a healthy lifestyle is vital to success. Remember, being healthy is not a destination, it is a way of life.

Book Week in the Resource Centre

Since the refurbishment of our Resource Centre earlier in the year, the new facilities have acted as a beacon for students enticing them to spend time learning, studying and reading in the space across the school day. And so it was, that we approached Book Week and its theme of Books Light Up Our World confident of ensuring a huge celebration. And we weren’t disappointed.

As our Lighthouse display took shape and our disco ball beckoned, students’ anticipation grew towards the opportunity to enter our competitions and participate in the long awaited and ever-popular Audio Quiz!

First came the shredded book challenge where students could be seen staring at the jars in the hope of uncovering a sentence or character name they could identify with their previous reading experiences. After many entries, our Library Monitors had the task of identifying the winning entry. I’m pleased to announce that this honour went to Ara R.

In addition to this, came our Minimalist Fairy Tale guessing competition, where students had to guess the fairy tale from the picture provided. Congratulations to our winner Tara A.

Finally, the day came for our Audio Quiz. Students gathered together their team and with the help of their teacher mentor, battled it out for supremacy in being the first to identify the light themed song or the audio quote from a novel. Victorious this year, were our Year 7 team with their Ms Knight-Smith and Mr Cuttler adding their wisdom.

We also celebrated the abundance of natural light we are blessed with as students decorated the Resource Centre windows with idioms with light as a theme.

Students and staff alike could be seen writing on and drawing on the windows, as slogans such as “We read so late...we go out like a light” sprung up.

Sydney Jewish Museum Excursion

Year 10 students visited the Sydney Jewish Museum on Friday 4th September as part of their study of The Holocaust, a new topic in the Australian Curriculum. The day was a most worthwhile learning experience – at times confronting but always engaging. One group of students heard Gerty’s story, a Holocaust survivor aged ninety. She told the students that they are the last generation who will hear the oral testimony first hand and that their mission is to ensure the stories transcend generations. Gerty was only twelve years old, a Viennese school girl, when the Nazis invaded Austria, arresting her father. He returned ten days later, a broken man, and her mother now had to try to get the family out of Austria, an almost impossible task at the time. She eventually secured a berth on a ship leaving for Shanghai in August 1939 and thus Gerty, her brother and parents survived and eventually came to Australia.

Students then toured the museum with relatives of the Holocaust survivors and finally listened to a lecture by Dr. Ari Lander.

The main message was the reminder about the importance of humanity and that people should never be bystanders. The quote by British politician, Edmund Burke, was prominent in the museum – ‘the only thing necessary for evil to triumph is for good men to do nothing’.

As the world witnesses the emerging refugee crisis in Europe and the Middle East, the messages from the survivors and their relatives at the Sydney Jewish Museum become even more pertinent in Australia today. As a global citizen, Australia should play a significant role in the current crisis. It is encouraging that Australia is now to accept 12,000 Syrian refugees, yet much more needs to be done. There are still children in detention in Australia and conditions for asylum seekers in Nauru and Manus Island are appalling.

Hopefully the lessons learnt at the Sydney Jewish Museum will remain with the students and encourage them to be involved in working towards a more humane and informed society and world.

Mercy Outreach – St Patrick’s Primary School, Asquith

I accompanied eleven Year 9 & 10 students to St Patrick’s Primary School in Asquith for our Mercy day Outreach. They were each allocated to a separate class where they helped students with work and activities and helped teachers with filing, laminating and other necessary jobs. It was especially wonderful to see them all interact with their new friends at break times – braiding hair, playing handball and chatting to the children. Some met Ms Gill’s excited girls and Kristen also met the brother and cousin of a girl in our Tutor Group.

After recess they joined in the school wide health hustle led by the Year 6 students (that brought back memories!) After lunch they made up beaded ‘maths kebabs’ - which were like a mini abacus given to all students to help them play maths games. It was tricky work but we enjoyed some 80s music while constructing over one hundred of them.

It was a pleasure to work with such wonderful girls and see what positive ambassadors they were for Mercy College. Congrats to Caitlin, Zoe, Alyssa, Julia, Anniesha, Kristen, Kalista, Keelin, Andrea, Shanaya and Michelle.

Diocese of Broken Bay Year 10 Social Justice Day

On the 2nd of September the Year 10 CSYMA class went to the Diocese of Broken Bay Social Justice Day. The theme this year was Care for Our Common Home. Along with Mercy there was 12 other schools from the Diocese that attended the event. Throughout the course of the day we participated in a number of different workshops and listened to different talks. The workshops we participate in looked at things such as the Aboriginal point of view on the environment, and other specific issues such as coal ports and 2030 emissions reduction targets. We were able to learn about the impact our actions have on the environment and how we can be activists and take action to help save our planet.

One of the main talks we listened to was by Amanda Marechal from Take 3. She discussed with us the Take 3 campaign she has developed, which involves taking three pieces of rubbish with you when you leave the beach, waterway or anywhere else. Through her talk, we were able to see the impact of our rubbish on our environment and the long-lasting effect of these especially our oceans. We had to face the harsh reality that every single plastic ever made still exists and how it can kill our marine life, pollute our waters and in the end affect us too in ways we never have imagined.

Overall the day had a strong impact on our views of our views on the world and made us really think about how we can all make a difference and help conserve our planet.

Bronze Duke of Ed Hike: Sept 2-3 2015

Twenty nine adventurous Year 9 girls (and 3 intrepid staff) set off for beautiful Pittwater on Wednesday September 3rd. We hiked along the beach then up the steep slopes of Barrenjoey headland to the Lighthouse with our heavy packs on. We enjoyed lunch and First Aid with a view then set off back down to catch our ferry to the Basin. After a quick tent demonstration everyone set up their homes for the night – some more successfully than others. Some girls were seen chasing the brush turkeys who had scurried with their food while others retrieved food that the many wallabies had nibbled on. We hiked up the ‘Hill of Death’ to enjoy a warm afternoon tea on the rocks, interrupted only by ‘snake spotting’ and more First Aid and carrying practice. After descending to the campsite we enjoyed some free time playing cricket, napping or by the water before meeting for dinner and mapwork by torchlight. We all went for a night walk to give Robbo time to light the fire, so we enjoyed chocolate and marshmallow before the rain sent us off to our tents.

Most of us woke up after an interrupted night’s sleep (some with wet feet) to be greeted by a lovely sunrise and lots of wet wallaby poo. We feasted before revisiting ‘The Hill’, this time conquering it before resting (and eating some more) by the Aboriginal Carvings. We had some more First Aid (this time for real) on the Mackerel Track before a beautiful rest overlooking Mackerel Beach and the wildflowers. Our bushbash descent to Currawong Beach was hampered by a need to remove our shoes to cross at high tide. We skipped lunch so we could begin the rock hop challenge as the rain clouds threatened – luckily, as it took much longer than normal! There was some very impressive teamwork as they helped each other over boulders and slippery bits, but there were still some cuts and scrapes (and a leech and some ticks!) We made it back in time to quickly pack up camp and catch the ferry, where we were rewarded with dolphins and iceblocks before heading home for a well earned shower and rest.

Considering this was the first time I had hiked with a Year 9 group I was so impressed with their fitness, resilience, adventurous spirit and desire to look after each other. Their log books are some of the most encouraging I have ever read, some examples below.

Congratulations girls and thankyou to Mr ‘Metho on the fire” Robertson and Ms ‘Slip&Scrape’ Sinclair.

Ms Dorey, Duke of Ed co-ordinator
Overall I really enjoyed this trip and I wished we stayed longer. I am really happy that I chose to do the Duke of Ed and I’m so excited for the next hike! I learnt so many new skills like how to set up a tent, read a compass, follow directions properly on a map and many more. I also really enjoyed the place we stayed at and the flora and fauna, like birds, wallabies, dolphins and the sea gulls swimming in the water. I think I was well prepared and brought all of the things that I needed without over packing. The teamwork was good and I got to know more people as well as the teachers. I realised that I actually love hiking and camping. Fun Fact: Wallabies can fit through tents and they love avocado!!!

Savanah H

I’m very glad that I decided to do the Duke of Ed. It has taught me a lot and has been a great experience. It has also taught me great team work and made me closer to a few girls. To finish all the hikes gave me a great sense of achievement and made me feel healthy and proud of myself and I know a lot of people felt the same. This was my first camping experience and I couldn’t think of a better group of people to do it with even with all the funny struggles from the rock hopping to the rain in the middle of the night.

All in all I had a great time.

Re: “Families & Pope Francis” - for Sunday 20 September 2015

As the Bishop Delegate to the Australian Catholic Marriage and Family Council (ACMFC), I have pleasure in attaching the leaflet “Families & Pope Francis” which has been prepared by ACMFC. It is also being sent to all parishes in the country. It deals with family matters.

It draws attention to two major family events of great significance in the life of the Universal Church and in which Pope Francis is participating:
